TEMPE'S SCHOOLS.

The Progress Made in Popular Education

In Matters of Interest and Facilities Tempe is Surpassed by no Other Section of the Territory.

While considerable has been said and written about the Territorial Normal school, little or nothing ever appears in the papers in reference to the pride and delight of Tempe—her public school. A stranger always mistakes the imposing public school for the Normal and can hardly believe the truth of his informant when told that the building he thinks is the Normal is nothing more than our public school building. Finished last fall at a cost of over $10,000, it is today the most imposing school structure in the territory, outside of Phoenix.

This is a conceded fact by those who have compared the various school buildings and no one thus far has disputed the statement. Containing six large rooms, three on each floor, and supplied with closets, two fine stairways and more than sufficient light and air, it is no wonder the scholars find it a pleasant duty to attend school, made much more encouraging by the excellent corps of teachers in charge. The present enrollment of pupils is 193, having fallen off some during the last month.

The first grade, controlled by Miss Anna Price, contains ninety-two little ones, and would be more than a credit to any school on account of the wonderful advancement made during the past six months. By far the greater number in this grade consists of Mexicans, who, when they first entered the school, could not talk or understand a word of English, but can now understand everything said to them by their teachers. They sing well and march like veterans, while their recitations show that the coming generation will be brighter in intellect than the last.

Miss Lulu Sampson, who has charge of the second and third grades, has an enrollment of 51, with an attendance of over 90 per cent. Here the planes of study are a little higher but the progress made by the two grades denotes the painstaking methods of the teacher. In these grades the Mexicans are almost up to their American neighbors as far as intelligence is concerned but they outnumber their white schoolmates. All are eager to learn but as in all nationalities, some will grasp the meaning of the subject very readily while others will consume much more time to gain the same end.

The third room on the first floor is in charge of Miss Mammie Garlick, who but a month ago relieved her sister Miss Ella, on account of illness. This room contains the fourth and fifth grades and here is where a surprising fact presents itself. The Mexican element has almost vanished. This race evidently disbelieves the maximum that a little knowledge is dangerous, because after a child arrives at the age of about fourteen, he is taken from school and the result is an almost total absence of Mexicans in the higher grades. This class has 31 members and a more behaving and studious set of pupils cannot be found in any school.

Prof. Fulton's class consisting of the sixth and seventh grades, is in the south wing of the second story. Twenty-four bright scholars are under his immediate command, but no student of Spanish extraction appears among them. Here the higher branches are taught and the student fitted for an entry into college. The system which Prof. Fulton employs in the discipline and teaching of his words would be hard to improve upon. Everything taught is done in a thorough and finished manner. There will be quite a number of graduates this year who will always refer back to Tempe's first year of advanced schooling as a criterion.

TEMPE ECHOES.

Prof. Fulton was a visitor to Phoenix yesterday.

Mrs. B. Matley was a visitor to Phoenix yesterday.

Tempe is at present infested with six life insurance men.

Misses Allie Gray and Mollie Long visited the capital yesterday.

The Mexican circus will make things lively in Sonora town tonight.

Louis M-lezer was in town yesterday rustling among his old customers.

Aaron Goldberg, the live business man of Phoenix, spent yesterday in Tempe.

Dean Ross, of Phoenix, rode over on his bicycle yesterday to take in the sights.

The board of trade postponed its meeting until Monday evening, April 24, when a full board will probably be present.

Mrs. O. L. Pease and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. W. J. Kingsbury for the past ten days, returned to their home at Gila Bend last night after spending a very enjoyable time.

Ed Jones of Tempe, and Steve Bailey of Phoenix, have bought out the liquor establishment of M. Foster, of Mesa City, and will continue the business.

John S. Armstrong has sold his interest in the Farmers & Merchants bank and will soon return to his old home in the east. The directors are now E. G. Frankenberg, Niels Peterson, F. G. Dodson and Mons Ellingson.

Chas. N. Taylor and C. E. Karls left for the Mormon Girl mine on Cave Creek yesterday. This is one of Arizona's best mining properties and is being quietly, but rapidly developed. The boys expect to bring down some fine samples for inspection.

The Reading Room entertainment Friday night, was both a social and financial success. All the selections were rendered in a very entertaining manner and everybody was satisfied with their investment. It would be a very embarrassing indeed to attempt to compliment any of the participants as they all did splendidly. The proceeds, about twenty dollars, will be devoted to buying new literature.

It has been reported around town by unreliable persons that should Mr. Hough have no opposition in the ice business, he will raise the price of ice to 1 1/2 cents a pound. This is a calumny and to prove its falsity Mr. Hough will sign a contract to guarantee ice all the year round at 1 cent a pound, and should any cut be made, the customers will get the benefit of it. It pays to patronize home industry.

Come in and see the Orla at Burchard's restaurant, now on exhibition.
